Advanced Technology for New Normal Century ISO 27001 Information Security Management System Along with I.T Security Assessment

Nowadays Information Security is a very important issue as with the rise in population and increased digitalization in different industrial processes. Organizations are connected both externally and internally. Protecting the data stored in your hardware, software, and applications are is critical, yet it's important that you focus on protecting physical assets as well, like your doors, entryways, and building. When you have established a robust physical security policy, you provide a sense of protection and safety in the working environment.

Recently, there are many significant security breaches with millions of personal information leaked. In 2020, nearly 8,400 security incidents were reported in Hong Kong alone and SMEs are the major victims. A security assessment of testing and evaluation of security controls will help you to define your organizations' current state of security and provide a roadmap to a desired future state by mapping security solutions to business goals.

Security assessment includes verifying company's' web application penetration system, web application penetration testing, mobile app penetration testing, vulnerability assessment, configuration review, etc.

For a security policy to be successful and comprehensive, many organizations not only conducted security assessment, but also apply for ISO 27001 Information Security Management System Certification. ISO 27001 Information Security Management providing security for any kind of digital information and through its systematic approach, helps to identify, manage and reduce the severity of regular threats to your information. Being an ISO 27001 company ensures the protection of your information assets and hence reduces the probability of legal prosecution and losing clients' trust because of data breaches.
